Aims and Scopes

International Journal of Advanced Materials and Production (IJAMP) reports on cutting-edge research in all branches of the practice and theory on advanced materials and production. The aim is to publish research of high quality and of lasting significance on the materials and production. The scope is broad, from fundamental concepts in materials and production to the analysis of novel phenomena and applications. The approach can be experimental, computational or theoretical.

The journal is an archival peer-reviewed international journal publishing the following types of papers: 1) research papers, 2) reports on advanced case studies, 3) reports on major material and production projects, 4) literature review. IJAMP also encourages the exchange of ideas between chemists, physicists, material scientists, biomedical researchers, engineers and other researchers who are active at the frontiers of this diverse and multidisciplinary field.

Submission Instructions

Hard copy submissions are not acceptable. All submitted articles should be original unpublished paper with experimental or theoretical research result. Plagiarism is prohibited.

When submitting papers for potential publication in IJAMP, please submit an original editable file. All figures, images, tables, etc. should be embedded into the original file. Detailed instructions on preparing papers for submission can be found in the Template paper and Copyright Transfer Form. Each full paper should be submitted to sub@ijamp.org.
